THE AMBERG.

A Star new to this country appeared at the Amberg Theatre last night. It was fridare Barkany, of the Berlin Schauspilihaus, who presented 'Fedora' Sardou's well-known play. Fri. Barkany is a handsome woman, with a superb stoge presence, and she made a very tavorable impression. Her work as Fedora was powerful—perhaps a trifle to 'powerful—and it had few of the delicate shades that made Sarah so successful in this play. There is, however, but one Sarah, and many Barkanys.

Maggie Cline, the "Queen of Irish singers," shone with undimned its tree at Tony Pastor's Theatre had hight. So did Tony Pastor. So did 13414 Yeamans.
